The instruments are arranged in a traditional orchestral layout, with woodwinds in the front, brass in the middle, and strings in the back. The percussion section is located in the middle of the score, between the woodwinds and the strings. The score is a complex piece of music, requiring a high level of technical skill and musical understanding to perform. The notation is clear and easy to read, with a good use of dynamics and articulation. The overall style is that of a classical symphony, with a focus on melody and harmony. The score is a valuable resource for musicians and music students alike, providing a detailed look at the inner workings of a symphony orchestra.
